

Homeschool Program 2011–2012

Year-round science classes for homeschool students

Homeschool Program 2011–2012

The Delaware Museum of Natural History offers engaging classes about science and nature for homeschool students, supplementing parents' lessons as part of a well-rounded education.

Using an interactive, hands-on approach, our educators display specimens from the Museum's vast scientific collections, lead special tours of the exhibits, and incorporate crafts and activities into the curriculum as students explore the natural world.

Homeschool classes are divided into two age groups that are held simultaneously: ages 6-8 and ages 9-12. Parents and guardians may attend the classes for an additional fee; those not attending must remain at the Museum for the duration of the class.

October 7 – Art in the Natural World
October 21 – Nocturnal Animals

November 4 – All About Trees
November 18 – The Mystery of the Peppermint Beetle

December 2 – Reptiles and Amphibians
December 16 – Giants: African Dinosaurs

January 6 – The Physics of Toys
January 20 – The History of Flight

February 3 – Mission: Space
February 17 – Kitchen Chemistry

March 2 – Natural History Myths and Legends
March 16 – Conservation Quest
March 30* – Extreme Environments

April 20 – Earth Day

May 4 – Invasive Species
May 18 – Students' Choice (students vote to choose a topic for the last session)

*Please note the addition of a class on March 30 in observance of Good Friday on April 6.

Choose one of two class times:
Morning (10 – 11:15 a.m.)
Afternoon (1 – 2:15 p.m.)

Classes are held the first and third Friday of every month.

Homeschool Class Series

Sign up for all 16 homeschool classes and save! The homeschool class series includes all of the classes offered during the 2011-2012 school year for just one fee. In addition to class registration, you will also receive the Museum's exclusive monthly homeschool e-newsletter, which provides additional activities and projects related to class topics and links to Museum events and other educational happenings around town.

Cost:
Members: $150 per student, $140 per additional student, and $20 per adult staying in class.
Non-members: $180 per student, $170 per additional student, and $30 per adult staying in class.

Individual Homeschool Classes

Can't make it for the whole series? Pick and choose your class schedule by registering for individual homeschool classes. Registration must be made a minimum of 10 days in advance by calling the Programs Coordinator at 302-658-9111, ext. 328, or registering online. Payment for individual classes is due at the time of registration.

Cost per class:
Members: $12 per student, $10 per additional student, and $4 per adult staying in class.
Non-members: $15 per student, $13 per additional student, and $6 per adult staying in class.

For more information, please contact Programs Coordinator Valerie Long at 302-658-9111, ext. 328, or vlong@delmnh.org.
